

Preface

The need to acquire the information of known faces of influence in the HKSAR for people in different sectors is enormous. However, to compile and edit a concise public affairs tool book of HKSAR is by no means an easy task. We successfully have more than 2000 entries in this volume by invitation. We are grateful to those who did spend a lot of their precious time to pass us back the questionnaires together with their valuable data to ensure the accuracy. We were particularly deliberate when putting in all the other data from public sources.

The entrée in this volume includes influential figures of top civil servants, political leaders, chairpersons and office bearers of key commissions, committees and professional bodies, business leaders, celebrated media figures, and renowned academics.

With a view to guaranteeing the publication a more detailed tool book, a certainly complete set of appendices of local reference is compiled with great care. And, a list of abbreviations is provided for comprehensible purpose.

Hope you find this a tool of tremendous value in general reference when exploring business development, doing networking, expanding public relations and undergoing all other research projects.
